Village Marks Education Week On Smoking

Education Week on Smoking is being observed in Antioch and the state on proclamations issued by Village Mayor Raymond Toft and Gov. Richard Ogilvie.

The purpose of the observance is to bring to attention the toll exacted by smoking, and that through this effort of prevention through education, directed to the youngsters in the school can this victory be achieved.

The proclamation says the Advisory Committee to the Surgeon General of the United States has scientifically established cigarette smoking as one of the major health problems of our time.

Governor Acts To Save Lake County's Volo Bog

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie announced today that the Department of Conservation has initiated steps necessary to save Volo Bog in Lake County.

"The state has made a final offer to purchase 153 acres of property adjacent to the bog to act as a buffer zone. If the offer is rejected, the Department of Conservation will begin proceedings to acquire the property through eminent domain," Ogilvie said.

Volo Bog is a unique natural preserve in northeastern Illinois. Once covered by a mile of glacial ice, the bog is considered a museum of the area's past. The bog contains thousands of years of preserved plant specimens, is a home for small animals and wild fowl, and preserves recorded changes in our climate for 12,000 years.

"In the past two years, we have increased state conservation and recreation land holdings by 20 per cent. Preservation of areas like Volo Bog is important to our entire environmental program," Ogilvie said.

According to Ogilvie, a buffer zone, needed to preserve the bog, will prevent reduction of the water level through drainage of surrounding property.

For the past year, the state has been involved in negotiations to purchase the property. Problems arose when Lake County approved rezoning of the area from an agriculture class to high-density residential use. Rezoning took place after a private developer, Robert Krilich, presented plans for development of a $94 million complex of homes, condominiums and a shopping center.

Krilich has refused all offers made by the state, Ogilvie said. If the offer is rejected, eminent domain proceedings will begin within seven days after the owner has received the offer.

The area including Volo Bog, purchased 12 years ago by the Illinois Nature Conservancy, was under the jurisdiction of the University of Illinois until June 1970 when the land was transferred to the Department of Conservation.

Former Antioch Couple Parents Of Twin Boys

A former Antioch couple, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gudgeon of Vasalla, Calif., became parents of twin boys New Year's Eve. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gudgeon of 1620 Forest Drive, Lake Villa, said the twins were born seven minutes apart.

Mark, weighing in at 6 pounds, 11 ounces, was the first to arrive at 10:45 p.m., while his brother Michael, scaling at 6 pounds, 3 1/2 ounces, was born at 10:52 p.m.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David Irvin of Visalia, Calif., former owners of the Lor-A-Lyn Dress Shop in Antioch.

The new parents, graduates of Antioch High School, have two other sons, Randy, 7, and Craig, 5. Mr. and Mrs. Gudgeon now have a total of 19 grandchildren in their family.

which consists of men majoring in an area of agriculture or a related field. The organization promotes scholarship, leadership, and the advancement of agriculture as a profession. It has maintained the highest scholastic average among the ten fraternities on campus since it began in 1968.

John, a freshman, majoring in agriculture business, is also a member of WSU-P ski club. He plans on graduating in June 1974, at which time he anticipated going into farming.

Antioch Coin Club To Meet January 18

The Antioch Coin Club has elected a program chairman, to bring to the coin collecting hobbyist, interesting and educational programs, throughout the coming year.

Each meeting will have a program directed at numismatics. Speakers and films are among the features to be presented.

Roy A. Miller of Racine, Wis., a professional numismatist and lecturer will be the speaker — he will lecture on the subject General U.S. Coinage — he has a vast coin book, Guide Book for Coin Collectors, (Red Book).

The field of coin collecting has grown. There are many coin collectors in the area — it is to these people that the club is directing an invitation to invite them as guests to their meetings. Both male and female — junior and senior are invited. Guests are always welcome, any one wishing to join may do so. Dues are nominal.

Meetings are held on the third Monday of each month at the Antioch Savings & Loan Bank basement at 7:30 p.m.

Dealers are present to answer questions and to buy and sell coins and related products. The next meeting is Jan. 18.

St. Peter's Church Plans VIP Dance

St. Peter's Church will hold the third annual Antioch VIP dinner dance.

And while the preparations are in progress, everyone is wondering who will be this year's VIP. Anyone in the community is able to select a candidate as happened last year and then the dinner dance committee will pick the VIP from among the candidates.

Anyone may name a candidate and place their selection on the list by calling 395-1217.

The final date will be January 21. Shortly after that date the committee will pick the VIP of 1971.

The dinner dance is a benefit for St. Peter's and honors a person in the community.

KC's To Sponsor Sleigh Ride

An old-fashioned sleigh ride will be held from 2 until 6 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 23 at the Circle D Ranch, Grand Avenue and Deep Lake Road.

The event is being sponsored by the Antioch Knights of Columbus Council 3800.

In the event there is no snow, a hay ride will be substituted. A special invitation is extended to all teens to participate.

County Soil Survey Done

The Lake County Soil Survey report was officially accepted by the Lake County Board of Supervisors.

This report is the result of work done during the past 10 years by the Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Lake County Soil and Water District. Preparation of this soil survey has been financed partially by the Lake County Board of Supervisors.

This report can provide assistance to those who make use of Lake County resources, including engineers, land developers, the real estate profession, farmers, those who work with farmers, game managers, and sportsmen. Units of government, including planning commissions, village boards, highway departments, road commissioners and public health departments will also find the report valuable.

The major field work of this soil survey was done between 1960 and 1965. During that time soil scientists made investigations of each acre of land lying in Lake County. These investigations were conducted through the use of hand augers making borings to a depth of five feet.

The report contains aerial photos of Lake County upon which are soil type delineations. Also included is a colored general soil map of the county.

A second part of the report contains descriptions and interpretations of the 44 individual soil types found within the county. Each of the soil types is interpreted as to the features which may affect its use for specific engineering purposes. This interpretation includes the degree of limitation for foundations of low buildings, septic tank disposal systems and highway locations.

These interpretations are based upon engineering properties of the soils which are also presented within the report. Other interpretations include planning guides for wildlife habitats, tree plantings, shrub and vine plantings and recreational uses of each of the individual soils.

The Lake County Soil survey report is available through the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District, P. O. Box 555, Lake Zurich 60047, or the Cooperative Extension Service, Routes 45 and 120, in Grayslake, 60030.

Copies may be examined at public libraries throughout the county or in the reference library of the Lake County Regional Planning Commission on the eighth floor of the County Building in Waukegan.

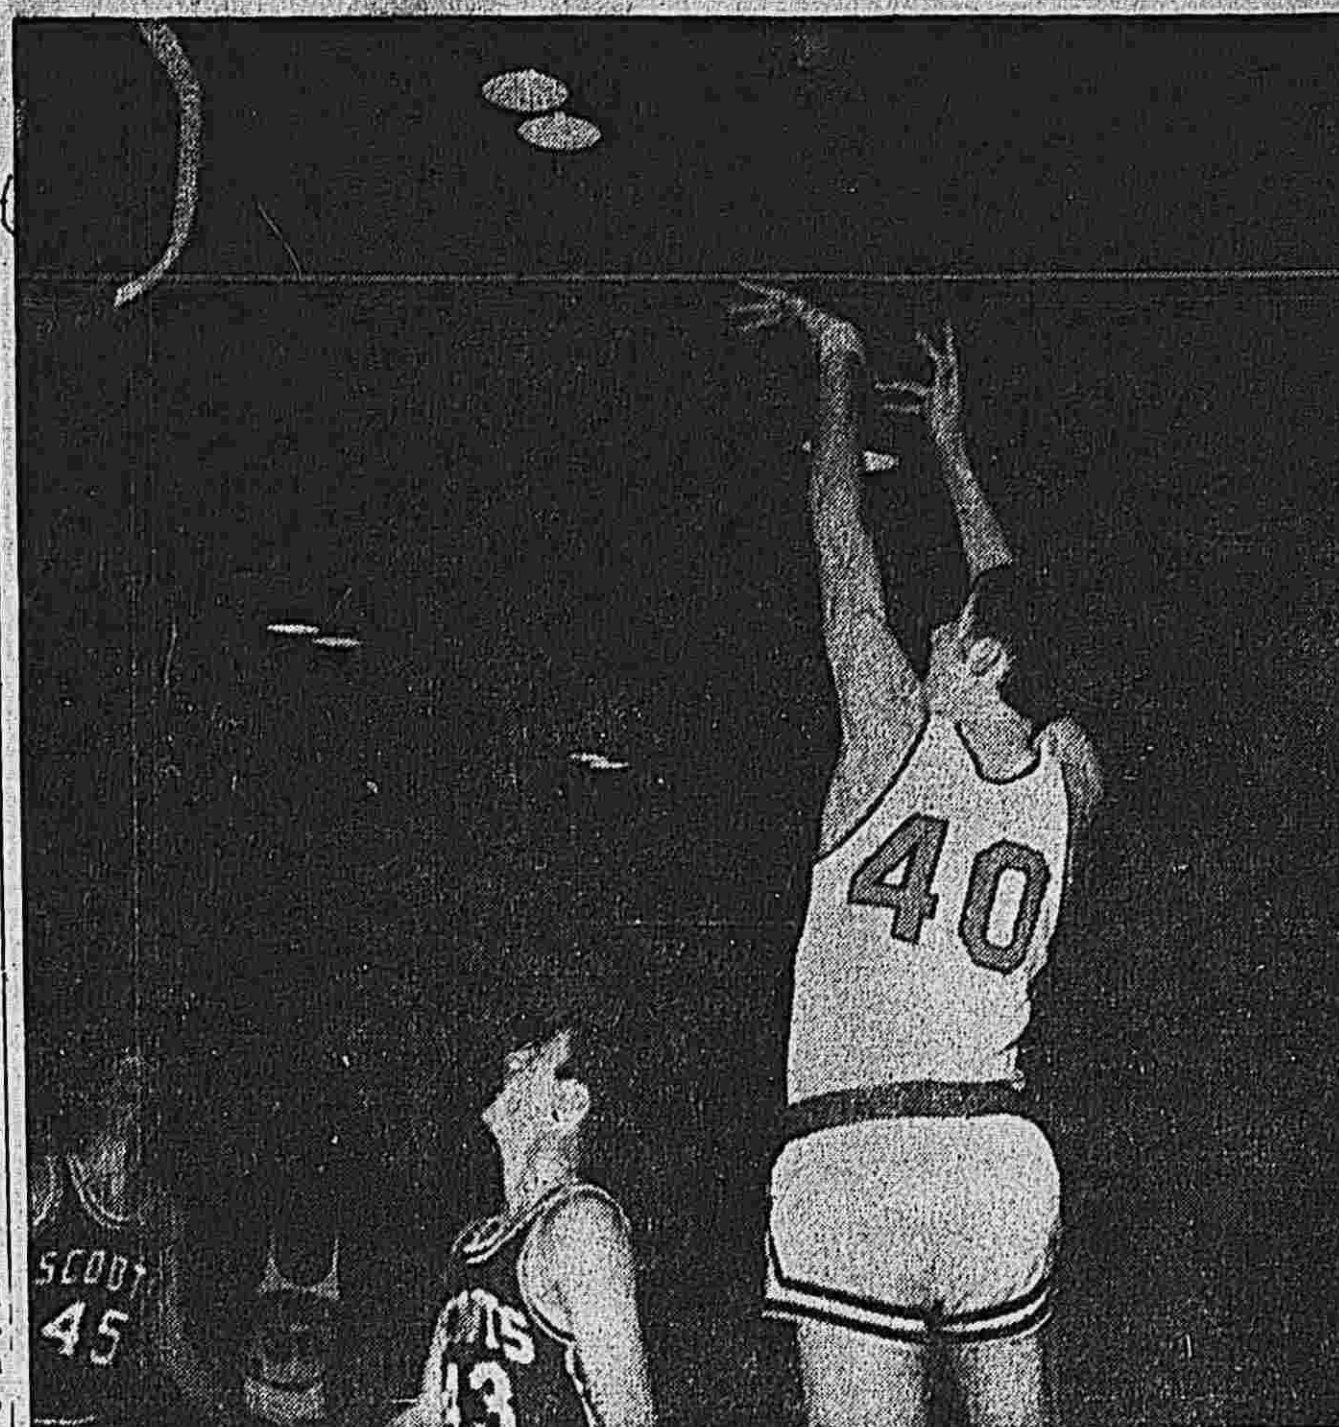

Former Antioch Resident Dies In Milwaukee

A former Antioch resident suffered a fatal heart attack Dec. 29 in Milwaukee.

Peter A. Maroz, born July 2, 1912, was buried in Wanderer's Rest Cemetery, Milwaukee.

He attended the Allendale School for Boys. He moved to Antioch in 1930, and was graduated from Antioch High School three years later.

He worked as a machinist in Chicago. After World War II, he returned to Antioch, but then returned to Chicago to work as a machinist before going to Milwaukee.

Keith Bolton gets ready to fire at the basket in last Friday's losing effort against Lake Forest. Antioch was downed 48 to 46. Bolton and Bentel shared scoring honors in the game with 13 points each.

Association Discusses Snowmobiles

Snowmobiles were the topic of discussion at the meeting last week of the Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Association at the home of Mrs. A. Neyrinck.

Oakwood Knolls homeowners complained last Monday to the village trustees about the snowmobile operators using the park as an entrance to Cross Lake.

Owners said some snowmobile owners are not aware that there are other entrances to the lake. Mrs. Neyrinck has gone to some of the owners, asking them not to use the park as an entrance to the lake. She said they were most cooperative.

The association has issued an appeal, urging that snowmobile owners not to use the park to enter the lake inasmuch as there are many children sledding and skating.

The association asked the snowmobile owners to stay off private property and lawns and public streets.

A sign reading that the park is not to be used will be posted soon.

The association also discussed its dance to be held Feb. 13 at the American Legion Home in Antioch.

Committee chairmen are Elaine Weber and Chris Kellagare.

Hearings Set On Value Of Farm Land

Two appeals on the assessed valuation of farm property in Lake County will be heard Tuesday, Jan. 26, by the Property Tax Appeal Board.

Board Chairman John K. Morris said the hearings, which are being appealed from decisions by the Lake County Board of Review, will be held in the county court house at Waukegan. Appeals to be heard are:

—F. D. Clavey Ravinia Nurseries, Inc., an Illinois corporation, and Roy F. Clavey, farm property, Warren Township, 183.15 acres, seeking $35,340 reduction, 9 a.m.

Sneaky Politics

Not much can be said about the 76th Illinois General Assembly which in its last 30-minutes voted to raise the pay of the members of the 77th General Assembly.

Since 190 of the 235 members of the 77th General Assembly were holdovers it was a nice way of circumventing the constitutional ban of legislators getting a hike in pay while in office.

Within a few moments, the legislators pay went up from $12,000 to $17,500 a year.

There is no doubt that some legislators were entitled to the raise, but what will irk the taxpayer most is the way in which the lawmakers went about the matter in voting themselves a raise.

It was done without the taxpayer having anything to say about the issue.

The new salaries along with the previously adopted $6,000 a year expense allowance makes the Illinois lawmaker the best paid in the country. The $23,500 combined pay compares with $20,000 in Michigan and $18,000 in New York.

The taxpayer should expect to get a good return on his investment. We hope so.

There's A Limit

The year 1971 could be an interesting season for the Washington Senators. First they get Denny McLain, a talented though controversial pitcher; then Curt Flood, an equally talented and controversial center fielder. Now, they're trying to sign Uncle Sam on as a kind of super-grounds-keeper.

The Senators, less than an artistic triumph last season, have come on hard times at the box office. Their owners have hit upon the ingenious idea of playing rent-free in a stadium which was built with taxpayers' money in the first place.

Fortunately, it is a proposition that must receive a favorable nod from Congress and it is to be hoped these gentlemen recognize a steal of first, second, third and home. While the monies involved are small in comparison to other commitments within our federal budget, this situation does re-emphasize the need for setting sensible priorities in spending the people's money. A word to your own Congressional representatives might be in order on this one.

Confusing Standards

Recently a college freshman from Tacoma, Wash., who had just been discharged from the Navy after a two-year tour of duty, put down his thoughts of, "What is an American?" His thoughts will probably make you smile, and proud too.

He is the fellow who yells for the government to balance the budget, then takes the last dime he has to make a down payment on a car.

He whips the enemy, then gives them the shirt off his back.

He yells for speed laws that will stop fast driving, but then won't buy a car if he can't make 100 m.p.h.

He'll spend half a day looking for vitamin pills to make him live longer, then drive 90 miles an hour on slick pavement to make up for lost time.

He ties up his dog, but lets his 16 year old son go wherever he wants.

He'll work hard on a farm so he can move into town where he can make more money so he can move back to the farm.

He couldn't fight his way out of a paper bag, but spends 20 bucks for a ringside seat, and tells the professionals how to fight.

We are supposed to be the most civilized nation on earth, but still can't deliver payrolls without an armored car.

Scott Continues Fight On Rail Passenger Service

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott today continued his fight to preserve essential rail passenger service for Illinois by urging that routes linking Chicago to 16 additional out-of-state cities be included in the proposed national rail passenger system plan.

Scott filed his recommendations in Washington, D. C. today with U. S. Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe who is charged with the responsibility of drafting the new national rail passenger system. The Illinois Attorney General was represented by Special Assistant Attorney General Peter A. Fasseas.

Scott was critical of the preliminary plan issued Nov. 30 by Secretary Volpe. He said the plan fails to provide "adequate inter-city service to, from, and within Illinois."

When the new Rail Passenger Service Act was enacted, Congress was assured it would save 80 per cent of the existing rail passenger service, Attorney General Scott pointed out. Yet, the preliminary proposal would leave Illinois with less than 50 per cent of its present passenger train operation, he explained.

As matters presently stand, the Preliminary Report could result in the virtual destruction of any viable rail service west of Chicago," Scott said.

He recommended five additional routes be established in the west as part of the plan. These would run from Chicago to Kansas City, Chicago to Omaha, Chicago to Minneapolis-St. Paul, Chicago to Denver, and Chicago to Des Moines.

Attorney General Scott also suggested that five additional routes running south from Chicago be included. They are: Chicago to Nashville, Chicago to Birmingham, Chicago to Atlanta, Chicago to Memphis, and Chicago to Louisville.

Rail passenger service from Chicago to these southern cities is justified by "population, inadequacy of existing alternate service, and one additional factor—a sizeable movement of lower-income travellers oriented to rail travel," Scott said.

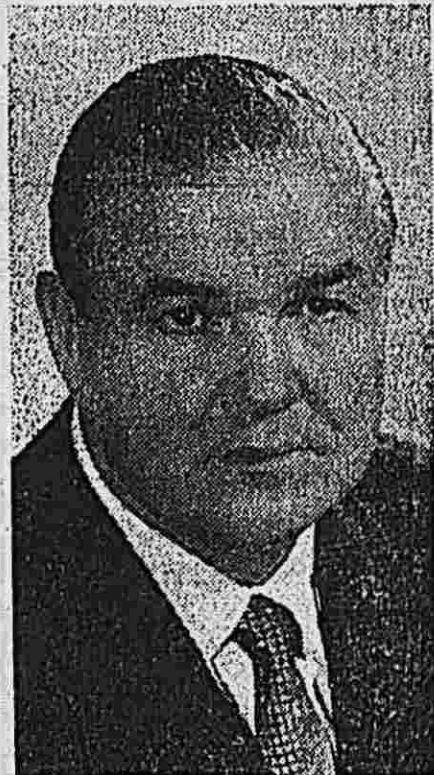

Scott recommended that Chicago also be linked with six eastern cities not included in the preliminary plan. They are Washington, D. C., Cleveland, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Boston.

The Illinois Attorney General noted that inter-state and intra-state trains, such as passenger runs linking Chicago and other nearby cities are not "inter-city" trains as defined in the Rail Passenger Service Act, and are therefore not subject to the provisions of the 1970 Act.

Michael J. Howlett

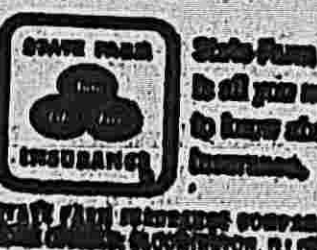

Elected To Third Consecutive Term

Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts, is the only incumbent Illinois constitutional officer elected to a third consecutive term by the people of Illinois. On Jan. 9, he observed the 10th anniversary of his first inauguration. Of 238 men who have served in the seven existing constitutional offices since Illinois obtained statehood in 1818, only 11 others have served as long as Howlett in the same office. He is the only state Auditor in Illinois history who has been elected with Governors of both parties. Only one other Democrat since the organization of the Republican Party has served in one constitutional office as long as Howlett (Edward J. Hughes, Secretary of State, 1933 to 1944).

Ogilvie Announces Large Road Program

The largest highway program in Illinois history was announced by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie last week when he unveiled details of the $488.7 million highway building and improvement plan for 1971.

The program covers 1,023 miles of roads. It is $60.9 million larger than the 1970 program.

The governor reported that "as of Dec. 18, construction in excess of $442 million had been put under contract in the 1970 program. We are also well ahead of schedule on the four-phase Immediate Action program." He added that more than 1,860 miles of the 2,500 miles of highway marked for improvement in the program have been completed, more than 100 miles of interstate highways were opened to traffic in 1970.

The 1971 program, which comprises work throughout the state, includes construction of 150 miles of interstate and resurfacing of 28 miles, building of 167 grade separation structures on interstate roads, widening and resurfacing of 570 miles of narrow noninterstate roads, reconstruction of 130 miles and resurfacing of 145 miles of other pavement, and reconstruction or widening of 244 bridges on noninterstate routes.

earmarked for interstate highways is $268.9 million while $219.8 million is to be spent on noninterstate roads. The state will provide $200.6 million; the federal government, $275.4 million, and local sources, $12.7 million.

In other state news, future visitors to Lincoln's New Salem will hear "ghosts" from the past as they visit the park's historic attractions. Source of the ethereal voices will be a subliminal sound system to be installed as part of the state conservation department's interpretative recreation program. Voices and other sounds common in the village during Lincoln's day will be recorded for addition through headphones.

H. Dean Campbell, assistant superintendent of parks and memorials, said "sounds may be those of gears in the carding mill, the clink of glasses and conversation in Rutledge Tavern, clanging hammers in the cooperage and blacksmith shops and the laughter and recitations of children at Mentor Graham School. Cost of the service, placed at "upwards of $150,000" by Campbell, will be financed by the headsets' rental fees, 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Construction totaling $22.5 million.

lion, made possible by a $12 million federal grant, will begin soon in 19 downstate sewage treatment plants, according to D. B. Morton, chief of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. The money was released this month by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency after federal approval of the state's water pollution control program.

Federal grants for Illinois sewage improvements have increased by 20-25 per cent since passage of Gov. Ogilvie's $750 million Anti-Pollution Bond Referendum. Morton said the state is eligible for $428,000 by the end of the current fiscal year.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie said 37 projects, including 18 now under way in the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago, have been certified to the federal government.

Thirteen air cadets from the Illinois Civil Air Patrol will participate in the International Air Cadet Exchange Program next summer. Aeronautical Director J. E. Wenzel said this is twice the number Illinois has previously been allowed to send in the overseas program.

Cadets will be chosen on the basis of their current events knowledge, department and scholastic ability in early February by the Civil Air Patrol selection board. Screening boards will meet Jan. 16, 17, 23 and 24 at four locations throughout the state.

Timber buyers may now apply for their 1971 state licenses, John A. Sester, conservation department forester, said last week. The license, required by law, defines "timber buyers" as persons engaged in the business of buying timber from growers for processing or resale. It's Happening In Southern Illinois

It's been 28 years since the first white-tailed deer were released on an 18,000 acre tract of Williamson County that was later to become the Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge.

The forerunners of the Crab Orchard herd—four does and two bucks—did famously. After the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife took things over from the old World War II Illinois Ordnance Plant, the deer herd flourished under maximum protection.

By 1965, deer watchers from Southern Illinois University's Cooperative Wildlife Research Laboratory figured there were 2,250 white-tails living on the 27 square-mile "inviolable" portion of the Refuge.

The herd had never been hunted but game management theory suggested now was the time to open season.

When a herd of animals gets too big for the habitat supporting it, standard practice says you thin out the animals. Otherwise they're going to die anyway.

For the Refuge staff shooting or trapping 1,000-plus deer on 18,000 acres would have been a difficult if not impossible job. So Fish and Wildlife decided to conduct a 10-day controlled hunt, hoping it would result in the twin benefits of necessary herd reduction and recreation for Illinois hunters. Not too many of Illinois' licensed hunters ever bag a deer.

Eight thousand of them applied for permits to get a crack at one during that first-of-a-kind controlled deer hunt on the Crab Orchard Refuge in January, 1966.

They had to shoot from stands and they had to leave via check-out stations. During the 10 days a total of 3,232 hunters from all but four of the 102 counties in Illinois took part in the harvest.

They fired 5,077 shots and killed 1,073 deer. In addition, hunt officials collected another 36 dead or crippled deer.

More than a third of the hunters took home a deer, a success percentage far above the average for open seasons in the state. Not a single shooting accident was reported.

Most hunters thought it was a success and the management goal of a 50 per cent herd reduction was attained without conflict.

What's happened since? In the past five years the Crab Orchard deer herd is right back where it was before the hunt—census takers put their numbers at about 2,200.

Will there be another controlled hunt? Nobody's saying right now. But there's evidence that the population has, in fact, established itself at these numbers; that there's a bleed-off of surplus deer into other parts of Williamson County and the herd growth rate on the Refuge itself is extremely low.

The inviolable area may well stay that way for some time to come.

Illinois Teacher Of Year Is Selected

Mrs. Martha Cassidy, Litchfield elementary music teacher, author and music consultant, has been selected Illinois Teacher of the Year.

Ray Page, Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction, in making the announcement said Mrs. Cassidy is also a candidate for National Teacher of the Year, a program sponsored by Look Magazine in cooperation with the Council of Chief State School Officers.

Mrs. Cassidy, Montgomery County Teacher of the Year and also runner-up in the Illinois Conservation Teacher of the Year, has produced more than 200 elementary school music and special events programs during her seventeen year teaching career.

She began teaching in Columbus, Ga. after receiving a Bachelor of Music Degree from MacMurray College, Jacksonville, in 1953.

NI-Gas Earnings Increase

A year of great achievement, some problems and many challenges. That was 1970 for Northern Illinois Gas Company.

The first year of the new decade again saw NI-Gas' earnings and revenues climb to new highs. Revenues, based on results for the twelve months ended Nov. 30, amounted to $320 million as compared to $289 million for 1969. Earnings per share on the company's common stock, before an extraordinary write down, increased from $2.57 last year to $2.61 in the November period.

The number of NI-Gas customers also showed another substantial increase. The customer total now exceeds 1,070,000, up close to 30,000 from 1969.

In April of 1970, the NI-Gas Board of Directors approved an agreement with Commonwealth Edison Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Mid-Illinois Gas Company, for the merger of Mid-Illinois into NI-Gas. This agreement is being consummated on December 30, 1970, with NI-Gas adding to its system the Rockford-Freepore area gas properties, with more than 80,000 customers. Simultaneously, NI-Gas will sell the Lincoln-Tuscola gas properties of Mid-Illinois to Central Illinois Light Company, representing some 20,000 customers.

Last January 20, NI-Gas set a new 24-hour gas sendout record of 2.72 billion cubic feet of gas to its customers. The old 1969 record of 2.37 billion cubic feet was topped six times during that January cold spell.

In order to keep pace with the growing demand for natural gas in its expanding service area, NI-Gas announced a new five-year construction figure of $331 million for 1971-75. Most of the increase from last year's announced five-year figure of $308 million is a result of the Mid-Illinois acquisition.

Marvin Chandler, NI-Gas chairman and chief executive officer, explained that his company's major frustration during 1970, which also is its major challenge, is the problem of gas supply. He said:

"For the first time in over a decade, demand for our product exceeded our supply capabilities. In the summer of 1970, we were forced to place large-use customers requesting more than 200,000 cubic feet a day on a waiting list. The present tight supply in no way affects residential and small commercial customers."

Chandler said that NI-Gas is well prepared to meet the winter demands of its customers. The utility's daily supply of gas from its pipeline suppliers was increased on December 1 by 92.6 million cubic feet.

Because of NI-Gas' underground storage program, Chandler explained, the company also will be able to withdraw an extra 100 million cubic feet daily this winter from its storage fields. He added:

"On a severely cold day this winter, we estimate demands of our customers will be about 3.2 billion cubic feet. We're fully able to meet these demands."

Record Dividends To Be Paid Holders of GI Insurance

The Veterans Administration announced recently that a record $275 million in dividends will be paid in 1971 to more than 4.1 million veterans holding World War I and World War II insurance policies.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson said the higher dividends are possible because of increased interest earning of the National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) and United States Government Life Insurance (USGLI) trust funds.

He noted that dividends totaling $255 million and averaging about $64 apiece will go to about 4,000,000 veterans with NSLI (World War II) policies.

The 163,400 veterans with USGLI (World War I) policies will receive $20 million in dividends, averaging about $122 apiece. All dividends will be paid in 1971 on the anniversary dates of the policies, Johnson said.

The VA Administrator stressed that since payment of dividends will be automatic, veterans need not write to the VA to receive payment. Veterans who have instructed VA to retain their dividends will receive appropriate statements, he advised.

In 1970, more than 4,191,000 veterans with NSLI and USGLI policies averaged more than $115 apiece, while those with NSLI policies averaged nearly $6.

Johnson explained that the amount of dividends a veteran receives depends on such factors as the plan of insurance, age of the insured, age of the policy and its face value.

Most hunters thought it was a success and the management goal of a 50 per cent herd reduction was attained without conflict.

What's happened since? In the past five years the Crab Orchard deer herd is right back where it was before the hunt—census takers put their numbers at about 2,200.

Will there be another controlled hunt? Nobody's saying right now. But there's evidence that the population has, in fact, established itself at these numbers; that there's a bleed-off of surplus deer into other parts of Williamson County and the herd growth rate on the Refuge itself is extremely low.

The inviolable area may well stay that way for some time to come.

11,000 Train Outside Country Under GI Bill

The Veterans Administration today reported more than 11,000 persons trained under the GI Bill outside the borders of the 50 states during fiscal year 1970.

Of these, 10,410 were veterans and 621 were servicemen. The figures for fiscal year 1969 were 8,264 and 203, respectively.

The 7,653 trainees who studied in Puerto Rico last fiscal year comprised the largest single group to study beyond the state borders of the U.S.A.

VA noted 3,144 trainees studied in foreign countries—almost half (1,522) were enrolled in the Philippine Republic, 399 studied in Canada, 203 in Mexico, 175 in the British Isles, 168 in Germany, and 67 in all other foreign countries. Veterans earn GI Bill educational benefits if they are discharged under other than dishonorable conditions after at least 181 days of continuous active military duty, any part of it after January 31, 1955.

They also are eligible if discharged because of a service-connected disability.

The Administrator of Veterans Affairs, Donald E. Johnson, under law may deny or discontinue educational assistance for a veteran to attend a foreign school if he feels it is not in the best interest of the veteran or the United States government.

Except for this restriction, VA stressed that an eligible person may attend any foreign institution of higher learning that accepts him. The law does not allow study below college level in foreign countries.

VA urged veterans living in foreign countries and interested in educational benefits to apply at the nearest American Embassy or Consular office—or to the VA regional office in Manila, if they live in the Philippine Islands.

Veterans in the United States were advised to contact their nearest VA office if interested in training in a foreign country. Men and women on military duty should apply through their service departments to the Veterans Benefits Office, 2033 M Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. 20421.

State Collects Half Million In Taxes, Fees

Franchise taxes and fees totaling $559,307.22 were collected by the Corporation Division in November, an increase of $56,511.29 over the $502,855.93 collected in November of last year.

Secretary of State John W. Lewis said that $22,204,476.17 has been collected in the first 11 months of 1970. The current total represents a decrease of $4,923,581.57 from the $27,127,957.28 collected in the same period of 1969. Secretary Lewis explained that the decrease is a result of lowering the minimum franchise tax from $100.00 to $25.00 per annum. New corporations incorporated or licensed in Illinois totaled 939 in November, a decrease of 59 from the 998 new corporations in November of 1969.

During the first 11 months of 1970, 12,007 new corporations were formed or licensed in Illinois. The total is 722 less than the 12,729 new corporations for the same period of 1969. However, the 1970 total represents an increase of 621 over the 11,386 new corporations in the first 11 months of 1968.

American Legion Auxiliary News

By DEL JAHNEKE

According to Mrs. Ray Rathmann, Antioch District Junior Activities Chairman, 10th District American Legion Auxiliary, there will be a Slumber party meeting on the 10th District "Juniors" at the Homer Dahlinger American Legion in Waukegan, on January 22nd, with the meeting starting at 8:00 p.m. Those Juniors wishing to stay overnight will be charged $1.00, for breakfast the following morning. Jeanne Walston, Lake Zurich, District Junior President, will preside at the meeting.

There are many programs, activities and contests available to Junior auxiliary members. Since there is a wide range of ages in the Juniors (from infancy to their 18th birthday, when they automatically become a senior member) there are always various age categories for all competitive contests.

The Americanism picture scrapbook this year is entitled "The Story of U.S. and Illinois State Flags", and is always a popular contest. Through Bake Sales, candy sales, etc. the Juniors earn money. One of their annual donations is to the Americanism seminar fund, which enables a political science teacher to spend three weeks, all expenses paid, at the Freedom Foundations in Valley Forge, Pa., earning three graduate credits. This is accomplished by Junior groups throughout the state.

Under the coupon program, nearly 1,000 coupons were credited to the Juniors, which aided in the aims of this community service project. When the coupons are redeemed for cash value, the money obtained is used for worthy needed projects in the community.

Through the Foreign Relations program, there is the doll dressing contest of natives of the country the American Legion Auxiliary is both studying and aiding monetarily in civic projects. Mrs. George Mitchell, Grayslake, District Foreign Relations Chairman, states that Panama is the country to be studied in 1970-71, so the dolls must be dressed in original, authentic Panamanian costumes. The Foreign Relations Scrapbook of Panama consists of pictures, articles, etc., regarding the history, geography, customs, etc., of the country.

Two Junior groups in Lake County have actual choral programs. Round Lake Unit, with Mrs. Leo Dussault as advisor, and the Sharvin Unit Juniors of North Chicago, Mrs. Norman Holt, advisor, have been doing considerable community singing in hospitals, school organizations, etc. The Sharvin Juniors won first place in the state last year with their choral ensemble.

In the Poppy program, there are the state "Little Miss Poppy" (age 6 to 12 years) and the "Miss Poppy" (age 13 to 18 years) Contests. In conjunction with this, there is also the "Miss Poppy Publicity Scrapbook" Contest. The Poppy corsage, poppy centerpieces and poppy hat contests are another source of interested participation.

Handiwork and handicraft articles can be entered into competition. Rehabilitation offers the Juniors an opportunity to make tray favors, and save cancelled stamps for hospitalized veterans. The Round Lake Juniors have already sent in over 6,000 cancelled stamps to the VA hospitals. The Juniors have helped sell veteran's craft articles, too.

Mrs. Bernard De Vries, Antioch Unit Junior activities chairman, reports that the Antioch Juniors have participated in all District functions (two of their members are District Junior Officers: Susan Rathmann, Historian, and Colleen De Vries, Chaplain). have helped sell poppies, made numerous tray favors, and have fashioned table decorations for several unit parties.

On the 10th District Junior level, there are four regular meetings a year, an election and Installation of Officers ceremony, a Halloween party, a pajama party, roller skating parties, picnic, swimming party, Christmas caroling at Downey Hospital, and other activities being planned. All District events are open to all Juniors in Lake County regardless of whether they belong to an organized group or not.

Medical Team Brings Care To Descendants of "Evangeline"

by Esther E. Anderson, M.D.
Director, March of Dimes Heritable Disease Evaluation Center, Louisiana State University Medical Center

Delivery of medical care is one of the most serious health problems facing our nation today. The great strides being made in medical research are simply not always available to the individuals who need care based on those discoveries. At the present time, application of research is often sporadic and inefficient, sometimes ineffective, and usually costly. In many instances, individuals who require specialized medical services receive little or none until it is too late.

This is especially true in the case of genetic problems, since many hereditary defects are so rarely seen that they are extremely difficult to diagnose. And effective genetic counseling for prospective parents is only possible if an accurate diagnosis can be made and a pattern of inheritance of the disorder can be determined.

In Louisiana the twin problems of gathering old records and providing care for the families who are afflicted have been combined in a single program. The Heritable Disease Evaluation Center at Louisiana State University, aided by funds from the March of Dimes, is carrying out a unique genealogical study which encompasses both research and patient care.

The study concentrates on the Acadians, descendants of the French people who were banished from Canada in the 18th century. The heroine of Longfellow's poem, "Evangeline", was an Acadian girl whose real name was Emmeline Labiche. Although the tale itself was largely fiction, all that was mortal of Evangeline now lies in a churchyard at St. Martinsville, La., where her grave is surrounded by oak trees and masses of flowers.

Today there are about 900,000 "Cajuns" living in the bayou country of southwest Louisiana. They form a uniquely self-enclosed population which has been well defined since 1755. Church and family records are readily available. Consanguinity makes it possible to study hereditary defects which are rare in the general population, but which occur more frequently in a closely related group. When such a defect is identified and diagnosed in studying the Cajuns, this information can be made available to other physicians in all parts of the country. This will help them in diagnosing and advising their own patients.

Teams of doctors and medical students participate in the Cajun study, fanning out across the bayou country to sift through old records and visit families of shrimp boaters, searching for reliable genealogical and genetic information. All this data will be computerized so that it will be readily available for use in diagnosing and evaluating hereditary disorders.

But, what about the individual patient? To be sure, the Cajun study is an engrossing project, but how does it apply to the people with the problem?

Let's take the Martin family as an example. Their son Noel was referred to the Heritable Disease Evaluation Center when he was four months old.

It was found that Noel had trigonocephaly, a recessive hereditary disorder. Our study of the family history revealed that both parents were Acadian and that the marriage was

It was found that Noel had trigonocephaly, a recessive hereditary disorder. Our study of the family history revealed that both parents were Acadian and that the marriage was probably consanguineous. What were we able to do with this information? The Martins received counseling regarding the possibilities of future children being affected, and also regarding the chances that their children might transmit this disorder to subsequent generations. This counseling will enable them to decide how to plan their family and what information to provide their children when they are old enough to marry. Meanwhile, Noel will receive the care he needs.

Genetic counseling is an important aspect of the National Foundation-March of Dimes in its nationwide program aimed at prevention and treatment of birth defects.

Another good example of how our two-pronged effort works is the Melancon family. The Melancons have four daughters, but it was Melanie, aged seven, who first came to our attention. We found she was suffering from Legg-Perthes disease, a hereditary bone condition which made it necessary for her to wear a brace on her left leg. Fortunately her case was diagnosed early enough so that treatment will correct the condition, and this lively youngster will soon be able to discard the device and lead a normal life.

Since the disease was recognized as a hereditary condition, examinations of other members of the family were made and multiple cases of a milder form of the same disorder was found. Melanie's sister Marion and her cousin, Tex, are now also receiving therapy which will prevent the potential crippling effects of this defect.

And of course, the information gained from the genealogical study of the Melancon family will be fed into our pool of knowledge on hereditary disorders among the Acadians. So Melanie Melancon, like many other patients, is not just a cute little girl with a problem that can be solved. She is a clue in the never-ending search for ways to prevent birth defects.

THE TRUTH THAT HEALS

Good intentions never saved a penny.

It takes a commitment to save money. To your family, to the future. And maybe to your country. Good intentions just aren't enough.

That's why the Payroll Savings Plan works so well. It's a way of saying "I'm committed."

And it's almost effortless. All you do is sign up once, where you work. Then the amount you specify is automatically set aside from your check each payday and put into U.S. Savings Bonds. You have automatic saving power.

After all, it's hard to spend money you don't touch.

Oh, you'll touch it someday. For that house, or dream vacation, or for your kids' college education.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U. S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

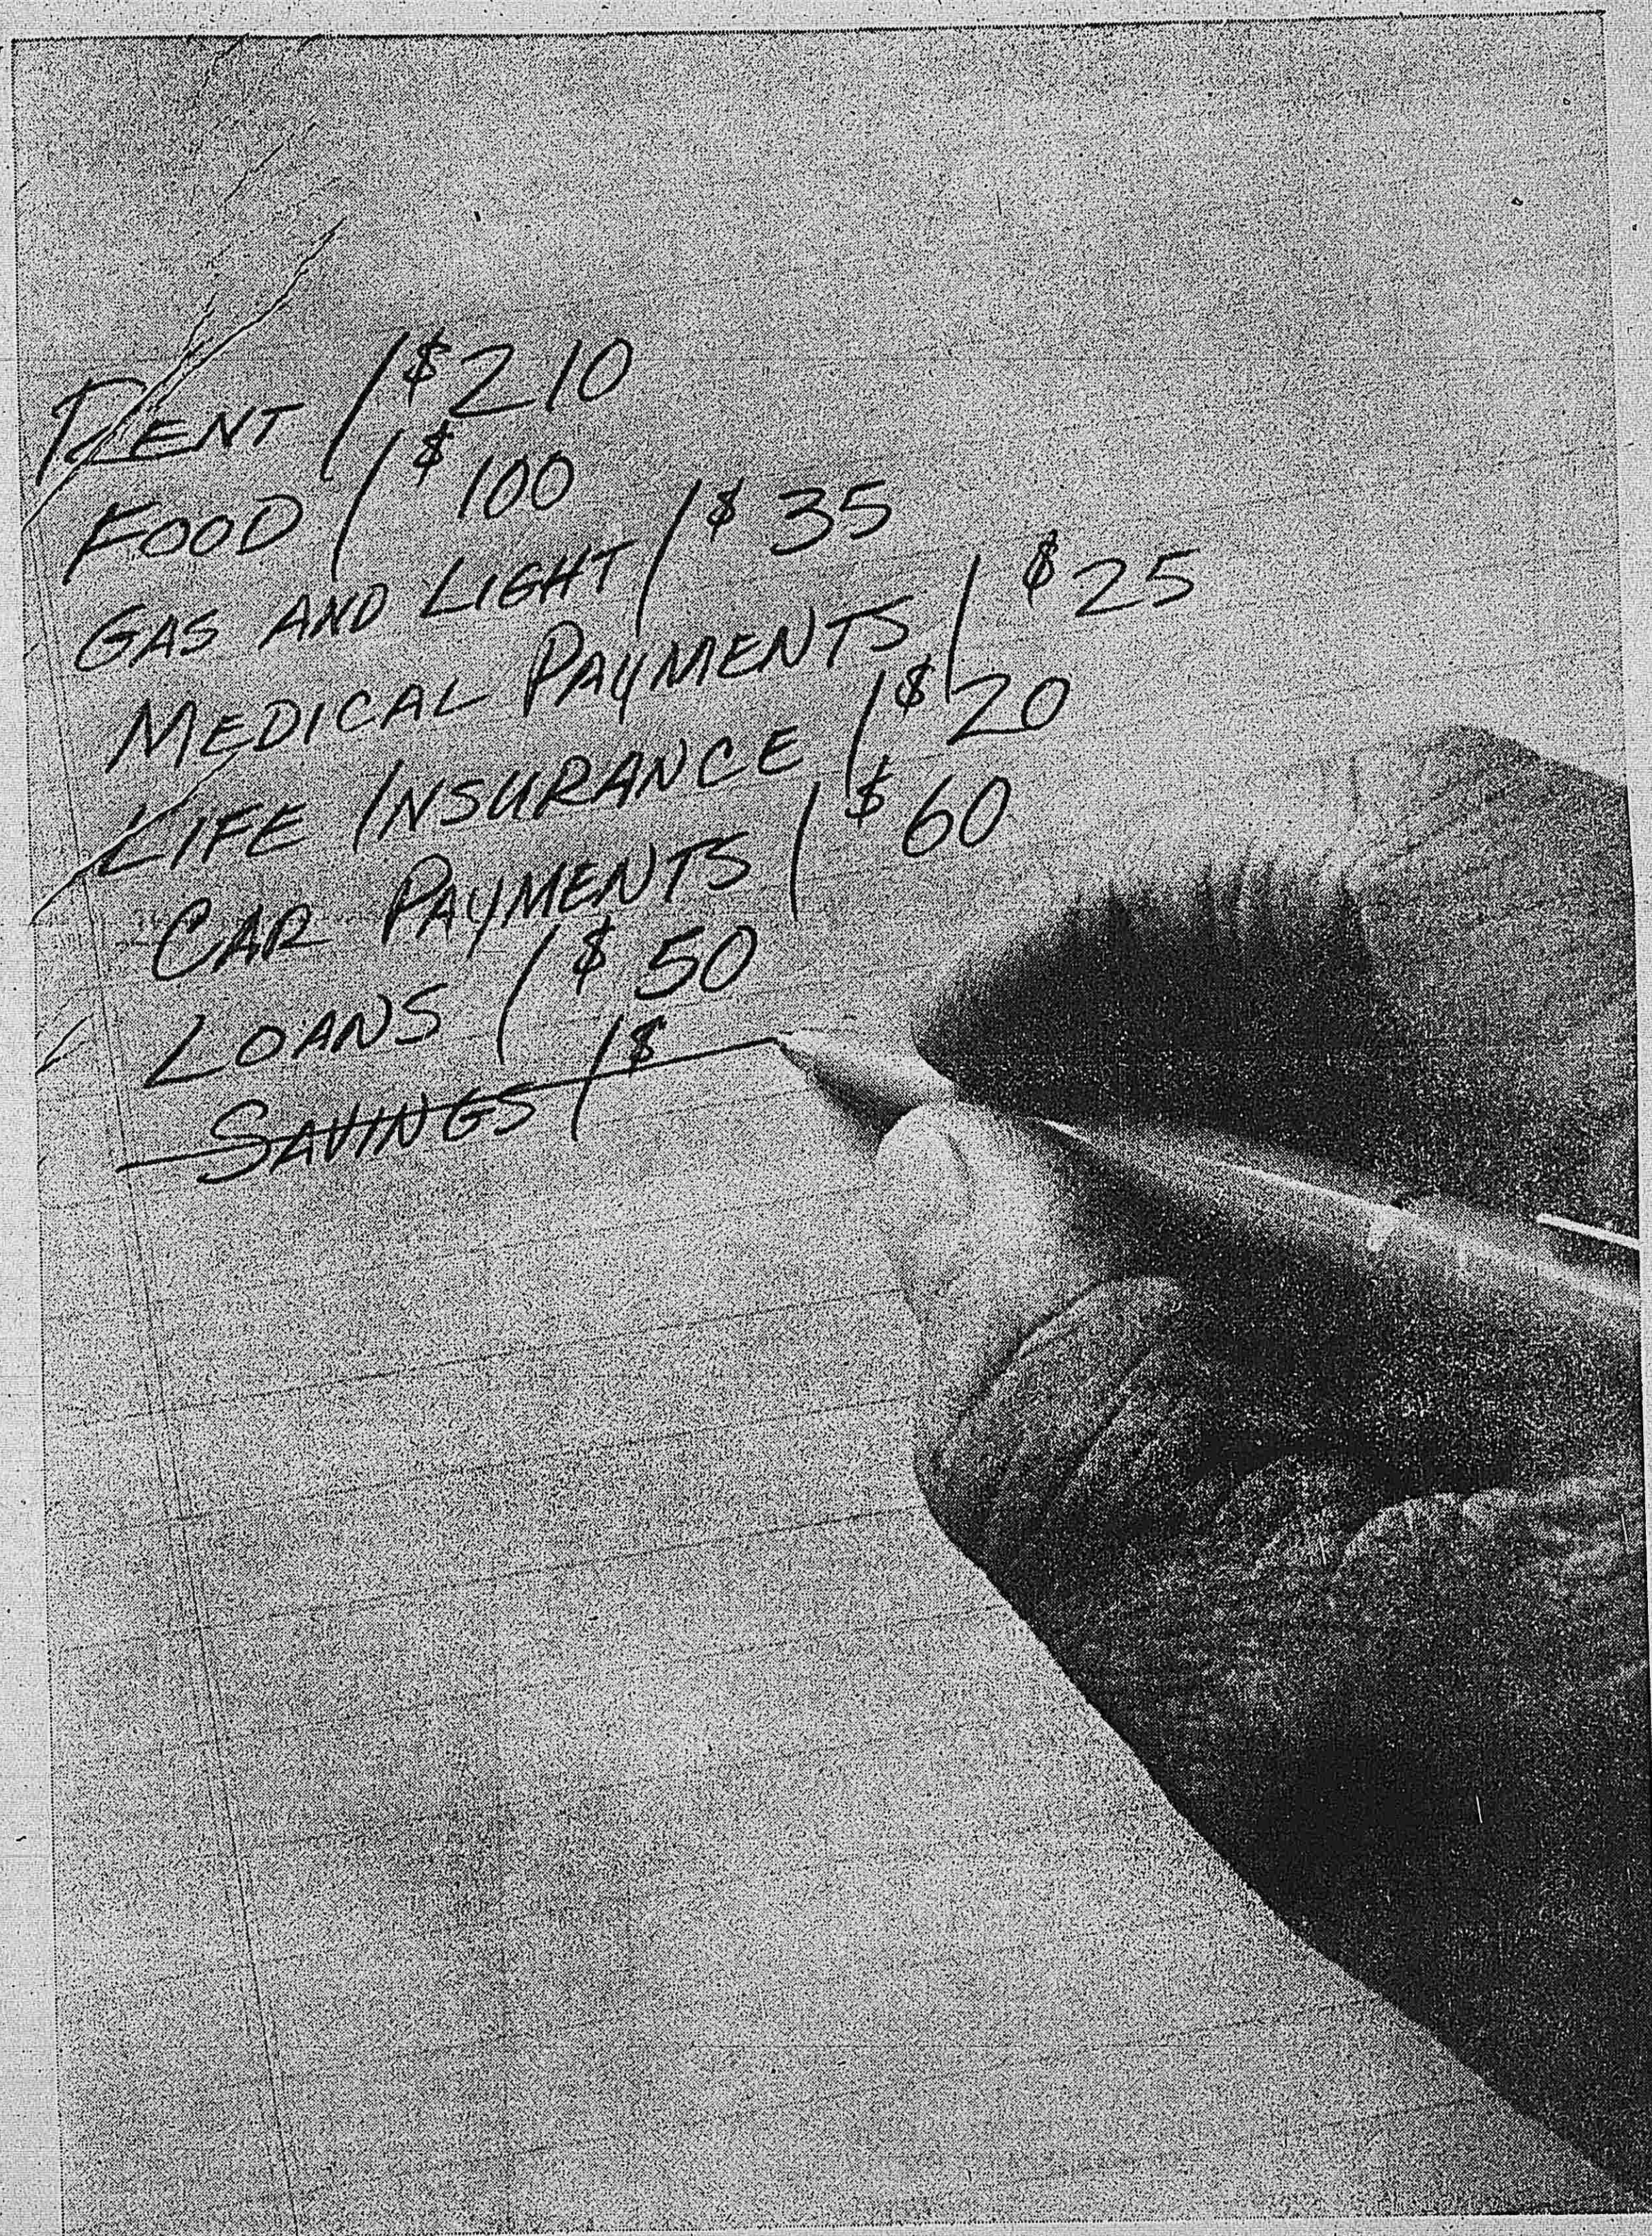

So think it over. The Payroll Savings Plan. It's a small effort, but it's a big commitment. For you and your country.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.

Lake Forest Scouts Dump Sequoits 48-46

By Sixth Man

Once again the rivalry between the Lake Forest Scouts and the Antioch Sequoits ended in an upset. This time Antioch bowed to Lake Forest 48 to 46.

The loss to Lake Forest was a disappointment to me as well as the rest of my teammates. Even though the Scouts handed us our second loss, we don't feel that we are out of the conference race. Remember that last years conference champions Antioch and Lake Forest both posted a 12 win, 2 loss record.

In the Lake Forest game none of our five starters could find the basket as our shooting percentage was very low.

Our varsity coach Roger Andrews is having trouble finding a man to fill the 5th spot in the Sequoit lineup. I think possible replacements are Jeff Williams, Ray Braden and Pat Michalak. I also think Ken Tell is a dark horse for the high post position.

Again this weekend Antioch proved it has the finest defense in the county by holding their opponents to a low offensive mark.

After the disappointing loss to Lake Forest, Antioch came back to beat an always tough North Chicago ball club. I feel that our team deserves some credit in the fact that we never give up.

Bolton, Bentel and Micure provided the offensive talent as the Sequoits opened a 10 point lead at the end of the third quarter.

Throughout this year, I've seen varying moods in my team. Over confidence, again prevailed as Lake Forest nipped Antioch. The next day we came back as a well disciplined ball club to win over North Chicago by 13. These ups and downs for Antioch will have to be dealt with in my estimation.

Another loss by Antioch will send us to the doom of a 2nd rate ball club.

Antioch Matmen Defeat Irving

Saturday afternoon the Antioch freshman wrestlers made it four wins in the last five matches with a 39-11 win over Irving Crown High School.

Standouts for the Sequoits included: Phil Edwards—pin at 98 pounds; Bob Sweatman—pin at 119 pounds; John Meyer, pin at 132 pounds; and Glen Nixon—pin at heavyweight.

Freshman coach, Steve Wagon was especially happy about the victory and said, "We needed to wrestle a good match—after looking so poor the night before at Lake Forest. I felt that Dirk Dietz, John Meyer and Travis Braden wrestled exceptionally good matches. Also, Glen Nixon at 198 pounds never quit in the heavyweight match even though the Irving Crown boy weighed 255 pounds. If we can continue to improve, we should have a chance at the freshman conference championship.

The Friday night match saw the freshmen wrestlers win a 33-23 decision over Lake Forest. The Sequoits picked up four forfeits, and generally looked very ragged after their four week lay-off. The next two matches are against Grayslake on January 15 in Antioch at 6:45 p.m., and at Barrington on January 16 at 1:00 p.m.

Sno-Hawks Set Plans For Races

The Waltonian Sno-Hawks of Fox Lake, Ill. have just concluded their plans for the 2nd Annual Fox Lake Snowmobile National to be held on Fox Lake on Sat., Jan. 30 and 31.

Waltonian Sno-Hawks vice pres. Gil Meisger of Spring Grove, will serve as race director and has a capable staff of members and professionals ready to make the two day event even larger than the same date last year which attracted more than 7500 spectators and over 200 participants.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. Sat., Jan. 30 and continue throughout the day and through Sunday.

Events will include a complete drag strip with count down second lights and electronic timing. The strip will be open throughout the day with elimination drag events concluding on Sunday.

Also on Saturday there will be two or more courses for the snowmobile entrants consisting of cloverleafs, slalom and flag racing. These events are designed for family type competition with elimination heats for stock and modified class machines and a marathon type race on Sunday.

Also on Sunday there will be special events for various groups and sports personalities. Following Saturday's activities will be a thrill show and then a snowmobile torch light parade and pagent ending with a dance and buffet supper.

Entries may be obtained by writing the Waltonian Sno-Hawks, 175 Waltonian Terrace, Fox Lake, Illinois.

Fox Lake Is Snowmobile, Illinois

A resolution was introduced in the Illinois State Legislators Assembly in Springfield by Representative John Matijevich of N. Chicago to change the name of Fox Lake, Illinois to "Snowmobile, Illinois" for the two days of the 2nd Annual Snowmobile National on Jan. 30 and 31.

The event, already recognized as the largest snowmobile function in Illinois, is expected to attract more than 10,000 spectators to the Fox Lake area for snowmobile competition thrills.

Requests for entries are being handled by a staff of members from the Waltonian Sno-Hawks at their Headquarters in Fox Lake. This last week brought the entries of a 15 member racing team from Fox Lake Harbor. The team included Paul Cameron and Chuck Haiman who had already entered. However the surprise entry of Duane "Whitey" Harris of Lake Villa, a Champion modified stock car driver, was also among those entered by John Moulis of Fox Lake Harbor. Harris won several snowmobile races last season but has not been active yet this season until the announced agreement with Fox Lake Harbor to ride a 400 Rupp Snowmobile. The team entry marks the largest group entered so far for the National to be held on Fox Lake.

Harris, Joe Moulis, and Ron Marks make at least five Interstate Racing Association modified stock car drivers that will be in the two day National meet.

A 25 member entry was received from a club of snowmobilers from the far south side of Chicago. Others in this last week include entries from Park Ridge, Arlington Heights, McHenry, Deerfield, Northbrook, and Waukegan.

Out of state entry requests have been mailed to Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa.

Q. Why should I be concerned with the type of wall and floor framing and foundation system my new home has? If the price is right and I like the looks of it, what's the difference what kind of framing materials are in the walls and under the floor?
A. You should care about your home's framing materials because if they are not made of steel, the smooth newly painted walls that you like so much may soon crack due to warped framing pieces; and structural cracking and problems such as termites can mean costly maintenance and repair bills. In addition, if your home is steel-constructed, it will be just as structurally sound the day you sell it as the day you bought it, providing added investment value.
Q. OK, if we're talking about a better quality home aren't we really talking about a huge cost increase to get these better materials?
A. It may be difficult concept to accept, but a steel-constructed home costs no more than homes built with other materials. Steel in the framing, floor system and interior wall studs are just a few of the areas in which steel can provide quality components at no increase in cost.

Q. Here's a practical question: How will I hang pictures without wood studs to nail into?

A. Most of the time pictures are hung by nailing into the wallboard anyway. But even when hanging a heavy mirror, for example, a steel stud will easily take a screw.

Q. If all these steel materials are so great, why doesn't everybody use them?

A. Everybody does use them in certain sectors of our economy. The virtues of steel have long been recognized by giant industries such as in transportation, high rise construction and appliance manufacturing. It's only recently that homeowners have started to become aware of what a superior job steel can do.

Questions, Answers For Vets

Q—Will VA deduct the premiums on my GI insurance from my monthly compensation check?

A—Yes, the insured may authorize the monthly deduction of premiums from compensation or pension payments. Such authorization may be made on VA Form 9-888, Authorization for Deduction from VA Benefit Payments.

Q—Are widows of World War II veterans who died on active duty or from service-connected disabilities still eligible for GI home loans?

A—Yes. Unused, expired entitlement for widows of World War II veterans, as well as for veterans themselves, was revived by recent legislation.

Q—My husband has a total and permanent disability from a service-connected injury. Can my children be recipients of VA educational assistance?

A—Is it likely that you and your children are eligible for assistance to wives and children of deceased or totally and permanently disabled veterans? Apply to your nearest VA office.

Q—I am eligible for training under the VA vocational rehabilitation program. Is it possible for me to take part-time training under the program?

A—Yes. This has been possible since July 26, 1968.

Handicap Student Art Sought For Exhibit

Ray Page, Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction has announced that art is being sought for the second annual exhibit of works by handicapped students.

Two-and three-dimensional art is being accepted for this year's exhibit, which is cosponsored by the Instructional Materials Center for Handicapped Children and Youth, a Department of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the Northern Illinois University Department of Art.

Jason R. Barr III, In-service Coordinator for the Instructional

Materials Center, and Miss Carolyn Allrutz of the Northern Illinois University Department of Art faculty are coordinating the project.

Works chosen for the exhibit will be displayed throughout the state and the nation during the coming year. Page said: "The purpose of repeating this exhibit is to focus the attention of the public, as well as teachers and future teachers, on the contribution and incentive that art brings to the lives of the handicapped."

In keeping with this goal, a special conference will be conducted March 5, 1971, in conjunction with the first display of the new exhibit. Special educators and art teachers and supervisors from throughout the state who attend the conference at University Center on the Northern Illinois University campus at DeKalb will be able to view artwork by the handicapped, which will be displayed at the center art gallery and gallery lounge March 1-13, 1971.

Participation in the exhibit, which will include 100 pieces of art representing all student age groups and all areas of disability, is not limited to students in the public school system, Page said. Any agency dealing with handicapped children may submit art for the exhibit.

The deadline for submitting art for the 1971 exhibit, including information cards stating the name and age of the student-artist, the nature of his disability, the name of his art teacher and the address of the school he attends, is January 22, 1971. Art should be submitted to Miss Carolyn Allrutz, Assistant Professor, Department of Art, Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Illinois 60115.
